Press Release Chennai 9th Oct 2009: Vaso-Meditech Pvt Ltd is an exclusive distributor and clinical support for EECP and SphygmoCor device in India.

The 20th Great wall International Congress of Cardiology (GWICC) and the 2nd International EECP symposium were held in Beijing on 9-12th October 2009 in Beijing International Conventional center. Vaso-Meditech Director and EECP expert Dr.S.Ramasamy was invited as a foreign faculty member to deliver a lecture on Growth of EECP in India.

The meeting was also attended by experts from USA, Europe, Turkey, Indonesia, Hongkong and China. The presentations were chaired by Prof.Dr.Richard Conti President of American College of Cardiology, Prof.Dr.William Lawson Chief of Cardiology Stony Brook University of NY, Dr.Andrew D. Michaels Director of Interventional cardiology University Utah, Dr.Gregory Barsness Director of EECP lab and Interventional cardiology Mayo clinic and Dr.John C.K.Hui Asst Professor Department of Surgery New York University.

Most of the International speakers focused on effectiveness of EECP in patients with refractory Angina and also use of EECP as a first line of treatment when medication fails to improve the symptoms. Dr.John Hui presented data on EECP as a treatment modality of endothelial dysfunction further strengthened the possible use of EECP therapy as a preventive measure.

Dr.S.Ramasamy presented data from Indian patient EECP registry on patients with ischemic Cardiomyopathy. EECP has shown not only improve the symptoms in patients with Heart failure but also consistently shown to improve myocardial perfusion and improve left ventricular contractility.

Dr.Thomas Leung from Hong Kong shared his pilot study on the use of EECP in patient with stroke. In his study he has shown improvement in perfusion in brain. It is assessed by PET scan. This will be a new frontier in EECP indication where further research is warranted. The meeting was well attended by physicians and cardiologist all over the world. The Chinese experts who spoke on EECP therapy indicated the 10 yrs follow up data was very encouraging and already EECP therapy is offered in many cardiac rehabilitation centers.

This expert meeting is part of the awareness drive by Vasomedical Inc the principle manufacturer of EECP and Vaso-Meditech Pvt Ltd the exclusive distributor for EECP to increase the awareness of EECP among the practicing physicians and cardiologist in the Asia pacific region.
